DEDICATION

We, the senior class of 1953, dedicate our yearbook to you, Miss Flora Hairston. We will never forget you for the things you have done in behalf of our school. Through your self-sacrifce and devotion, you have endeared yourself to us,not only as a teacher, but as a friend and leader as well.

You can never know the full extent of our appreciation for your efforts; however, it is hoped that this token might in some way convey the respect and admiration which we will always hold for you.

Senior History

Shakespeare said, "Parting is such sweet sorrow." It is with this thought in mind that seniors of Salisbury High review the events of their joyous life spent from 1948-1953.

As we look back over the calendar of events, our hearts fill with a great pride in knowing that our class has played its part well on the stage of action at Salisbury High School.

It seems that only yesterday we were young, inexperienced eighth graders excitedly presenting our first assembly program. After this venture, we felt duly initiated into the high school activities. Our life began to take shape with representation at the Maryland State Teachers' College annual Youth conference in 1949.

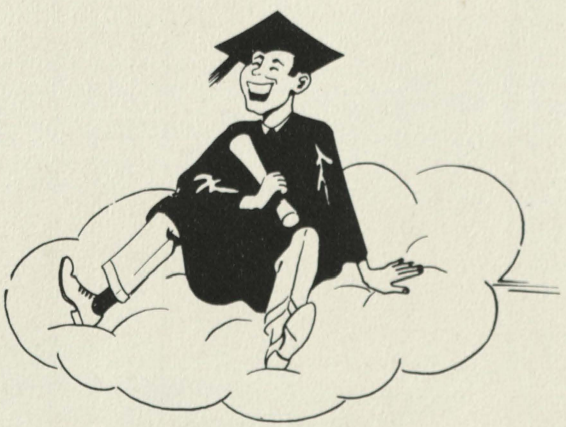

As time passed, membership in the dramatic club was swelled with a host of players from our class. Not only did some excel in dramatics, but from our ranks emerged many promising stars in athletics. At the same time others found their places in the glee club and on the patrol force.

Singular honors have been conferred on individuals of our class. A silver cup was awarded to Marva Hull for writing the best essay on "What I Want To Be" for a contest sponsored by the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority at Maryland State College in 1952.

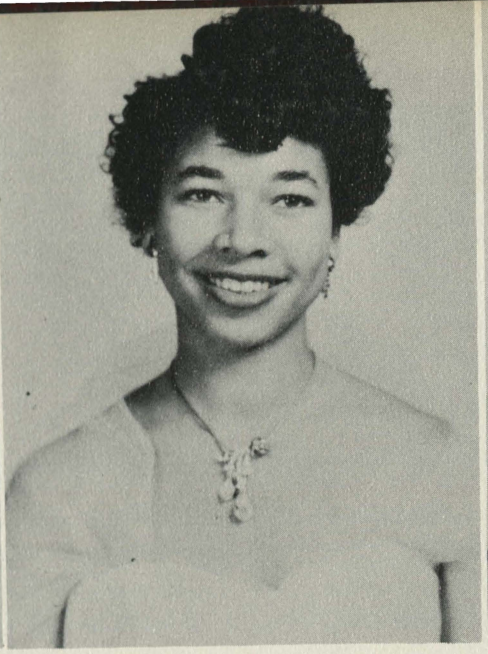

The following year we saw Frances Parsons and John Simpson elected presidents of the New Homemakers of America and the New Farmers of America respectively.

Looking back over the calendar of events, no greater joy fills our hearts that that of thinking of the contest to decide who would be crowned "Miss Salisbury High School." The whole school waited with anticipation until the announcement was made that Edith Turner was the winner. Runners up in the contest were Frances Parsons, Phyllis Handy, Juanita Hull, Ruth Buford and Dorothy Wood.

So after four years, we, the senior class of 1953, bid farewell to the faculty and the student body of Salisbury High School as we watch the curtain slowly descend on our memorable high school days.

Eighth Grade

The Junior Class of Salisbury High School, 1952-53 has certainly found its way into the hearts of various organizations and activities of the school. Many are engaged in the sports; namely, touch football, fieldball, softball and basketball. Others have taken their places in the glee club and in the different dramatic presentations. Still others are numbered in the NFA, NHA and the Student Council.

Desirous of succeeding, the present Junior Class is striving to lay the foundation for a prosperous Senior year.

The Tenth Grade has come through two precious years of high school experiences. By 1952 we were an integral part of the school. This year finds our class serving our "Alma Mater" in music, sports, dramatics, and all other school programs.

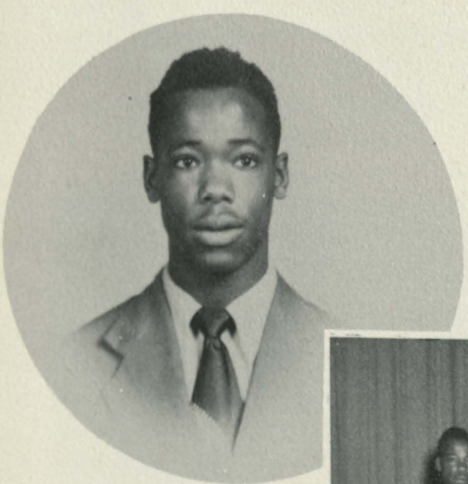

We wish to express our appreciation to the Senior Class for the encouragement they have given us in our high school efforts. Their achievements have set an example for us to follow. To the class of "53", the class of "55" says, "Good Luck" and "Godspeed".
